SERIES PREMIERE

SAT Sep 23 | 9p

Marathon Opportunity

The series based on Cixin Liu's best-selling novel is coming soon to KCTS 9 Passport! That's right, you can watch the original Mandarin-language program (with English subtitles) online or with our app beginning September 23 — months ahead of Netflix's release of the highly anticipated English-language reboot.

The sci-fi series kicks off when Wang Miao, one of China's leading nanomaterials experts, is enlisted by a detective in the case of apparent suicides in the scientific community. During the investigation, Wang Miao encounters a mysterious organization called the Frontiers of Science and learns an unsettling truth.

All episodes will begin streaming Saturday, September 23, on KCTS 9 Passport. Watch online or with the World's Best TV app. The weekly broadcast of the 30-episode series will begin that night at 9 p.m.

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

Two new documentaries explore efforts to integrate public schools in 1970s America.

The Busing Battleground

MON Sep 11 | 9p

On September 12, 1974, the first day of a new school year, police were stationed across Boston as Black and white students were bused for the first time between neighborhoods. Cross-town busing was met with shocking violence, much of it directed at children. Using eyewitness accounts, oral histories and news footage unseen for decades, this program pulls back the curtain on school desegregation.

The Harvest

TUE Sep 12 | 9p

After the 1954 Supreme Court ruled that racial segregation in public schools was unconstitutional, little more than token efforts were made to desegregate Southern schools. That changed dramatically when the high court ordered that Mississippi schools fully and immediately desegregate. As a result, 6-year-old Douglas Blackmon entered school in the fall of 1970 as part of the first class of Black and white children who would attend all 12 grades together in Leland, Mississippi.

INDEPENDENT LENS

Sansón and Me HH

TUE Sep 19 | 10p

Sansón's life is defined by borders — between Mexico and the United States, between freedom and incarceration, between fact and fiction. While serving two life sentences for first-degree murder in Pelican Bay State Prison, Sansón grapples with the ways he has traversed these borders, moving from country to country, from rural California to solitary confinement, and from the truths of his life to the mythologies he's created.

A tale told through dramatic reenactments, "Sansón and Me" re-creates a life of multilayered border crossing as told by Sansón to his interpreter-turned-friend, filmmaker Rodrigo Reyes. In vividly portraying Sansón's life from orphaned Mexican child to American prisoner, Reyes reveals one man's attempt at reconciling the things that have happened to him and the things he has brought on himself.

AMERICAN MASTERS

New biographies Friday nights this month!

Bella! This Woman's Place is in The House | Sep 8 @ 9p

In 1970, when the United States was ruled by men, Bella Abzug challenged the status quo, running a successful campaign from the streets of Manhattan that elevated her all the way to the halls of Congress. With her trademark hat and Bronx swagger, Abzug entered Congress swinging, battling for credit cards for women and equality for the LGBTQ community, and trailblazing a path for leadership that reflected the broad diversity of the country.

Jerry Brown: The Disrupter | Sep 15 @ 9p

Witness the life and career of two-time, four-term governor of California Jerry Brown, and find his record of forward-thinking policy making on issues such as inequality and climate change, among many others, to be a fresh source of inspiration in our troubled times.

Floyd Abrams: Speaking Freely | Sep 22 @ 9p

What price are we willing to pay for free speech? This documentary is a biopic of the First Amendment told through the landmark cases of its most celebrated attorney, Floyd Abrams. From nascent law 50 years ago to an iconic part of the American identity, the journey of the First Amendment offers a unique lens through which to view America's recent history.

A Song for Cesar | Sep 29 @ 10p HH

This documentary presents a unique view of the life and legacy of Cesar Chavez and the farmworker movement. The film tells a previously untold story about the musicians and artists — including Joan Baez, Maya Angelou and Carlos Santana, among others — who dedicated their time, creativity and even reputations to peacefully advance Cesar Chavez's movement.
